Making AEDs Accessible to Everyone

Owning a defibrillator is easier than you think.

Myth: There are hidden costs and conditions

At Pulse4all, there are no surprises. Maintenance, insurance, and all essential services are included in the rental price, so you'll never face unexpected costs. After three months, you decide how long you rent.

Myth: Only medical professionals can deploy a defibrillator

AEDs are designed for everyone. Clear, step-by-step instructions guide you through the process—no training required.

Myth: Using a defibrillator is dangerous

AEDs are completely safe. They only deliver a shock when absolutely necessary, ensuring no risk to the patient or the responder.

Fact: An AED can significantly increase survival rates

With an AED, the survival rate for cardiac arrest jumps from 4% to 90%. Since most cardiac arrests happen at home, having an AED within reach is a smart choice. They're easy to deploy and provide clear instructions, so anyone can act with confidence in an emergency.

When to Choose the Philips HS1

The Philips HS1 AED is the ideal choice for safe and accessible placement in heated indoor spaces. Whether in a home, care facility, apartment complex, or sports clubhouse, the Philips HS1 provides reliable support in emergencies.

- ✓ Specially for Indoor Spaces
Optimally functional in temperatures between 10 and 43 degrees Celsius, making it perfect for spaces with a stable temperature.
- ✓ World's Best-Selling AED
The Philips HS1 is ideal for homes or small businesses. With its intuitive design and spoken instructions, it's easy to deploy, even for untrained people.
- ✓ FDA Certified
The HS1 is FDA-approved, including the unique FDA-OTC certification, making it safe and suitable for deployment by anyone.

When to Choose the Philips FRx

The Philips FRx AED is the perfect choice for vehicles and locations with many young children, such as daycare centers, sports clubs, or elementary schools. The Philips FRx offers an ideal combination of durability and is easy to deploy, ensuring you're always prepared for emergencies.

- ✓ Suitable for Varying Temperatures
Operates optimally in temperatures between 0-50 degrees, making it perfect for placement in boats, vehicles, or locations with fluctuating temperatures. In freezing or extreme heat conditions, we recommend relocating the AED.
- ✓ Suitable for Children and Babies
Includes a special child/baby key that adjusts the shock intensity for children under 25 kg.
- ✓ Reliable and Versatile
Designed for both untrained responders and professionals, making the AED easy to deploy by anyone.

Medically the Best

The Philips HS1 delivers a shock within 8.1 seconds with Quick Shock technology – the fastest on the market. It can detect pacemakers and identify when a heart's rhythm changes from an irregular, but still contracting, state (fibrillation) to a state with no electrical activity (asystole). This ensures that Philips AEDs meet the highest industry standards.

What Our Clients Say

No More Worries with Our Philips AEDs

At first, we bought Philips AEDs for our ships. However, we soon discovered the option for a fully managed subscription. With this service, we're fully covered and no longer have to worry about our Philips AEDs. We now have complete confidence that our AEDs are always ready in case of an emergency. Plus, we were able to trade in our old AEDs with Pulse4all under great terms.

All Costs Included, Super Helpful!

What a fantastic initiative to easily access an AED. I came across the ad explaining that for a small monthly fee, all costs are included, including maintenance. I'm happy I now have one at home.

M.M

Super Organized

I recently acquired an AED from Pulse4all and had to use it within a week. I emailed them, and received an immediate phone response, even asking how I was doing. I also received a thank-you bouquet for my efforts. Furthermore, a fresh AED was sent out immediately, and I had it within two days. Everything was handled perfectly, and I'm now ready for future emergencies. Pulse4all is an outstanding service.
